

The AllStates 2000 Task Force

Convened by the Commissioner of Education Statistics, Pascal D. Forgione, Jr., the AllStates 2000 Task Force was charged with the mission to develop an action plan to encourage and support participation of all states and jurisdictions in the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) in the year 2000. The Task Force, led by William T. Randall, former chairman of the National Assessment Governing Board, includes some of our most respected educational policymakers and practitioners:

William T. Randall	Chair, AllStates 2000 Task Force; Former Commissioner of Education, Colorado; Former Member and Former Chair, NAGB
Jodie Butler	Education Advisor for the Governor, Iowa
Donald Covey	Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Phoenix Special Programs and Academies, Arizona
Marilyn Gogolin	Deputy Superintendent, Los Angeles County, California
Donald Gossett	Former Superintendent, Libertyville High School, Chicago, Illinois
Patricia Hayes	Chairman, Colorado State Board of Education
Marla McGhee	Principal, Hill Elementary School, Austin, Texas
Kenneth Nelson	Executive Director, National Education Goals Panel
Lynnisse Roehrich-Patrick	Assistant Commissioner for Finance, Accountability, and Business, Tennessee Department of Education
Peter Reed	Coordinator of Assessment Center Programs, South Carolina Department of Education
Norma Sermon-Boyd	Superintendent, Jones County School System, North Carolina
Bettye Topps	Director for Professional Development and Leadership, Washington, DC
E. Roger Trent	Testing Director, Ohio Department of Education
Michael Ward	State Superintendent of Public Instruction, North Carolina
Mossi White	Chair, Provo County Board of Education, Utah
Gayle Williams-Simmons	Teacher, Miami-Dade Public Schools, Florida